A: Install flashrom-0.9.0. And you can install with this command `sudo apt-get install flashrom-0.9.0` After installing flashrom run it `sudo flashrom -y` Source: At least 30 people were killed and about 400 injured, in violent clashes between angry citizens and government forces in the Indian city of Kannur in Kerala. A large mob attacked a paramilitary camp in the northern Indian city of Kannur, injuring dozens of security personnel and killing 30 civilians, Indian media reported. Indian television footage showed throngs of people attacking police officers and soldiers from behind barricades with sticks and shovels. Kannur, a major trade hub in Kerala, has been the site of bloody clashes between local residents and security forces since December 15, when activists of the RSS-affiliated Niyyor Movement broke up a local public meeting organized by the ruling CPI(M) party. Organizers of the meeting had threatened to blockade the town if the government failed to impose a curfew in the area. On December 15, angry residents from the Malabar region of Kerala, home to the Hindu majority, attacked a police station, cutting power supplies, vandalizing vehicles and even setting fire to a bus. Police officials confirmed that at least 30 people died in violence in the town after security forces fired several rounds of tear gas to break up a protest and protect the life of a student, who was run over by a bulldozer. All stores, local markets and other business establishments were closed in Kerala, and in many other Indian states, on Sunday in a show of support to the protestors. While a curfew is in force in Kannur, many areas of the city are cordoned off by the police. Q: Least squares fitting polynomial for an experimental function I've a very simple question about fitting functions. I have a function  $f(x)$  (that depends on one parameter  $p$ ) and I want to fit this function to my experimental function  $h(x)$ . My question is: is the least squares  $f(x) = (1-p)^n + p^n$  the function that I should use to fit for example experimental data like the one in the plot below? I can't see the arguments for using

A: The problem is with the file-format and the md5 checksum. You are downloading a corrupt file which might happen if the connection to the server dropped just before the file has been completely downloaded. Try updating the firmware by using an alternative WiFi connection or making sure that the device is connected to the Internet by using your computer. Source vomerolateral nerve complex (VNC) show that the intraseptal complex lies in close proximity to the lateral wall of the nasal cavity. In addition, a number of epibranchial ganglia (EPGs), a small portion of the facial nerve, and fibers of the trigeminal nerve (V) appear to form part of the VNC. The VNC fibers of the V and the EPGs develop in a clearly identifiable pattern. The VNC fibers comprise a central tract, the superior VNC nerve, a dorsal column of fibers, the dorsal columnar nerve, and the medial VNC nerve. The dorsal columnar nerve (originating in the VNC) joins the dorsal column nerve in the otic ganglion.

The superior VNC nerve is closely associated with the o
